OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL OF EDUCATION IN MYSORE,

No 3103

210

Bangalore, 22nd September 1910

From

J WEIR, Esq, M A,

Inspector General of Education in Mysore

Corr 21-10
SL-1

To

C S. Balasundaram Iyer, Esq, B A.,

Offg Secretary to the Government of H H the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

SIR,

I have the honour to make the following proposals for regulating the duration of the academical year, the dates of examinations and the payment of Fees in Arts Colleges. The rules as now drafted are the result of the joint labours of Mr Tait and myself, and we both recommend them for government approval.

Terms, Examinations, and Fees in Arts Colleges.

1. The academical year shall begin on the Monday nearest the first of July
2. The First Terminal Examination of the J I.A and J B.A. Classes shall be held so as to end on the day before Mahalaya Amavasya. The Final Examination of the J.I A and J B A Classes shall begin on the Monday nearest the first of April.
3. There shall be only one examination for the S I.A and S.B A Classes viz , The Selection Examination.
The Selection Examination of the S I A Class shall begin on the Second Monday in November
The Selection Examination of the S B A. Class shall be held so as to end on the day before the Christmas holidays begin.

4. For the purpose of payment of fees the year shall be divided into two terms viz , from July to October inclusive, and from

November to the end of the academical year.

5. A student who has attended for any portion of a term must pay the fee for the whole term.

6 The fees for each term shall be payable in four equal instalments as follows

Class	Term Fee Rs.	First Term	Second Term.
I.A Classes	24	Rs 6 in each of July August, September and October.	Rs.6 in each of November, December, January and February.
B A Classes, English	12	Rs 3 -Do-	Rs 3 -Do-
Science	18	Rs 4½ -Do-	Rs 4½ -Do-

7. These rules shall come into force from July 1911

8 The present J B A and J I.A Classes shall have their final examination on Monday April 3rd and the following days, and the annual holidays shall end on Sunday 2nd July 1911

The following notes will explain the reasons for some of the recommendations which may not appear quite obvious -

1 Instead of making the year begin on the 1st of July it is to begin on the Monday nearest the 1st of July, because if the 1st day of a new term occurs in the middle of the week students frequently stay away until the following Monday, and it is thought that if the term begins on Monday they are so likely to absent themselves on the opening day.

2. The first examination of the Junior classes is fixed before Mahalaya Anavasya so as to allow the professors and lecturers to have the Dasara holidays for correcting papers. The date of the final examination of the Junior classes is chosen so that the examination takes place the week after the Matriculation examination.

3. Only one class examination for the Senior classes is recommended because the students will, for the most part, appear for the University examinations, and these examinations take up longer time under the new regulations than under the old.

The examination of the S I A class is fixed for November because the names of candidates must be sent in not later than 20th December

The examination of the S B A class can take place later because the names of candidates are not due till January 20th, and it is convenient for the teachers to be able to correct the examination papers during the Christmas holidays.

4 Under the new University regulations there will be a long summer vacation, and the present system of monthly payment of fees will be difficult to work, as it will involve the payment of four months' fees in one lump sum in the month of March. It is therefore proposed to collect the fees in eight monthly instalments instead of twelve

5 The principle of the liability of a student for the fees of a whole term if he has attended part of a term is adopted from the Madras rules. This may be regarded as a sop to the Syndicate who recommend the increase of the rate of fees in the Colleges of the State. It will not affect more than a very small percentage of the number of students

6 The amount of the fees payable in the different classes has been fixed at such a rate that the total amount payable yearly is the same as before, only it will be collected in eight instalments instead of twelve. Under the old regulations for the B A classes there were separate fees for English, Second Language and Optional Science. Under the proposed rules the annual fee for English is the same as before, and the fee for Second Language has been added on to the fee for Science so that the total fee for the B A classes is unaltered

7 & 8 As the rules as a whole do not come into force until July, 1911, a transitory regulation has been added applying the rule to the date of the Junior examinations in April 1911

9. The question of the fees has been awaiting settlement for recommended because the students will, for the most part, appear for the University examinations, and these examinations take up longer time under the new regulations than under the old.

9. The question of the fees has been awaiting settlement for some time. The Syndicate in February 1907 recommended that the rate of fees in the Mysore Colleges should be increased so as to bring it nearer to the Standard rates of the Madras Government, and a Committee consisting of Mr Bhabha, Mr Tait and myself was appointed to report on the question. We held one meeting, Mr Bhabha's account of which is given in his letter No 1696/123 dated 11th August 1909, in which he makes his own recommendation that standard fees should be charged. There is no doubt that many students in the State are able to pay fees at a higher rate, but the majority of students are unable to pay more than they do at present. It is quite true that Mr Tait changed his opinion at the meeting but he did so on the evidence produced by Mr Bhabha himself.

As regards the recommendation of the Syndicate it may be pointed out that Section 21, 1(1) of the Indian Universities Act clearly contemplates the possibility of free education in some affiliated colleges, and merely empowers the Syndicate to guard against undue competition between Colleges in the same neighbourhood. It is therefore not necessary to comply with the recommendation of the Syndicate to raise the fees if Government is satisfied that the present rates are high enough in the present condition of the country. But it may be necessary or advisable to give the Syndicate an assurance that Government will exclude Madras students from Mysore Colleges or levy higher fees from such students according to any principle that the Syndicate are pleased to propose. It is certainly not desirable to attract a large number of students from Madras on account of the cheapness of the fees, and apart altogether from any action of the Syndicate in this direction, it may perhaps be necessary in course of time to take steps to confine the advantages of the cheap education provided by the State to bona fide Mysore Students, but in the meantime the proposals of the Syndicate may be awaited.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

J. W. S.
